BIG PEP MEETING TO BE HELD NOV. 9

Friday Evening Before the Union Game Set Aside for Huge Gathering—Old Grads and Former Gridiron Stars to Be Back

BEAT UNION!

Friday evening, Nov. 9, the eve of the Union game, is the date set for what promises to be the biggest "pep" meeting ever held on the Hill. "Beat Union" is the slogan on every one's lips. The "pep" meeting in Commons and on the campus will lend a spirit and color to those words the like of which few undergraduates have experienced at Hamilton.

All alumni who are planning to see the Union game Saturday, Nov. 10, are being urged to be on hand for the "pep" meeting Friday night. Especially those alumni who have played football in college are being urged to come back in time for the meeting in Commons Hall.

Members of the old football teams that played in 1905 and 1906 when Hamilton had winning teams that did not know the meaning of the word "defeat", will be at the big get-together. In those days when Hamilton failed to wallop Syracuse, the football team was considered in a pretty bad way. Colgate and Cornell tasted defeat at the hands of the men who wore the Buff and Blue on the gridiron then. College spirit ran high. The men who fought on teams that trimmed colleges now entirely out of Hamilton's class in football, will be on hand to stir up some of that old spirit. In fact it was not so long ago that Hamilton defeated Colgate on the gridiron.

"Beat Union" posters have been made and will be posted in every fraternity house, in Clinton, and even on the highways approaching the college. This is something new at Hamilton. But if the plans for the "pep" meeting are any sign, every Hamilton man will see the football team do something new Saturday, Nov. 10th.

A season's record means very little when it comes to the Union game. There is a peculiar psychology about the Union game that corresponds closely to the psychology of the Harvard-Yale football classics. The tradition that Hamilton has never been beaten by Union on Steuben field for a period of twenty-five years is another thing that lends color to the psychological aspect. Call it what you will, the spirit at the Union game is always vastly different from that exhibited at any game of the season. And the "pep" meeting Friday night proposes to develop more of this spirit than has been produced in years. That is the reason that "dope" can't be counted on at all in predicting anything about the outcome of the Union game.

A brass band, bon-fires, and "peerade" will be features in connection with the "pep" meeting. The brass band will be on hand for the Friday night affair as well as for the game Saturday. Union usually brings a band with them. And it goes without saying that all Union comes, too. A "peerade" composed of alumni, undergraduates and everyone with the interests of Hamilton at heart, will march around the campus at the close of the meeting in Commons. The fellows will sing football songs, go through the college yells a final time before the big game, and get an idea of just what the words "Beat Union" signify.

Organizations are lending energetic support to the "pep" meeting. They have made special efforts to get the old football men and former football captains back on the Hill for the meeting. The coaches want the thing to go over big and are pushing it hard.

Every morning this week after chapel "pep" meetings will be staged on the chapel steps. The college football songs and yells will be rehearsed, and new yells tried out. Several new yells have already been successfully inaugurated. The cheer leaders have been working hard to put these yells across in the most effective manner possible.

At the meeting in Commons, in addition to speeches by former football captains and the coaches, alumni who played football will be requested to speak and tell of the spirit at Hamilton in the days when they were here. Cheerleaders will be largely in charge the meeting.

But above all else, all alumni who can to see the Union game are wanted back Friday night for the biggest "pep" meeting in years.

SCHOLASTIC CLUBS GET UNDER WAY

With the approach of winter, most of the scholastic clubs on the Hill are organizing for the current year. Several of the clubs have held their first meetings already and the remainder will do so in the next week or two.

The Latin Club held its first meeting on Monday, Oct. 22, and will hold regular meetings every two weeks during the year. Frank Wood was elected president; Howard Yule, vice-president; and John Gualtieri, secretary-treasurer. A discussion concerning the program for the coming year followed the election of officers. Sixteen members were present at the meeting which was held at the home of Dr. Chase.

The Biology Club will hold its second meeting on Friday, Nov. 2, at the home of Prof. Morrill. The organization of the Club was completed at the first meeting and a full program is scheduled for Friday. Dillion Brown will speak on "Heredity and Acquired Characteristics"; James Farrell on "Lord Lyster and His Aseptic Surgery"; B. Allen on "Goddard-Normal and Abnormal Psychology"; and George Marks on "Evolution of Man."

The French and German Clubs will organize some time in the near future. Whether there will be History or Chemistry Clubs has not yet been decided.

HARD TUSSLE WITH UNION EXPECTED

Hamilton Coaches Drilling Team for Annual Classic—Statistics Previous to Saturday's Game Give Union Slight Edge

With the big game of the season but two weeks away, the Buff and Blue football team under the coaching of Bart Carroll and "Tuts" McBride is being whipped into shape to keep Union from scoring on the Hamilton field when the two traditional rivals meet for the last game of the season on November 10th. Hamilton's triumph over St. Lawrence Saturday demonstrates the fact that Coach Carroll's methods are at last taking fruit.

Although there is no doubt in any Hamilton man's mind that Union will meet defeat at the hands of the Buff and Blue, there is still some anxiety concerning the maintenance of the old tradition that Union has not scored on Hamilton's field. Hamilton broke the Union tradition last year at Schenectady when Morris scored for the visiting team. Union's team has this in mind and will spare no efforts in upsetting the tradition at Hamilton this year. The Union men have demonstrated their ability to score several times this season. Saturday, Oct. 27th, Union defeated Trinity by a score of 14-0. A week before Rochester met defeat at Union's hands, and Rochester beat Hamilton in a previous game. The Hamilton defense is gaining strength, as was clearly shown by the St. Lawrence game. However, the Hamilton team has been as yet unable to prevent any of their opponents from scoring. The next two weeks will decide whether or not Hamilton keeps the tradition which Union has failed to keep and prevents Union from scoring on the 10th. That Hamilton will win the game is not doubted for a moment by any Hamilton man.

HARRIERS NOSE OUT WILLIAMS 26-29

Cross Country Team Takes Measure of Purple by Small Margin—Watkins Finishes First

The Buff and Blue cross country team led by Ken Watkins, who came within seven seconds of equalling Tommy Thompson's record, defeated the Williams harriers over the regular four and a half mile course here last Saturday, 26-29. The Purple team, which is used to a five and a half mile course, was unable to keep up to the fast pace set by Watkins, Capt. Clark, and Val Alison. Captain Sanford and Cleveland, however, who do the course at Williamstown in 29:45, finished second and fourth respectively.

Coach Gelas is giving the team the stiffest practices of the season in preparation for the pending Hobart run at Geneva next Saturday.

The order of finish:

1—Watkins, H; 2—Sanford, W; 3—Clark, Capt., H; 4—Cleveland, W; 5—Holt, W; 6—Alison, H; 7—Snyder, H; 8—Childs, W; 9—McMasters, H; 10—Heacock, W.

SOCCER TEAM TIES SYRACUSE ELEVEN

Hard Fought Battle Results in Scoreless Tie—Meehan, Chevreaux and Moore Star—Game Marred by Roughness

Hamilton and Syracuse fought to a scoreless tie last Saturday in one of the most spectacular and thrilling soccer matches of the year. The game, played before a large crowd on Syracuse's "old oval" field, was a bitterly fought struggle throughout neither side being quite able to penetrate the other's defense. It was a battle of backs, as both forward lines proved rather ineffective and the brunt of the playing fell upon the half-backs and full-backs.

The goal-guards of both teams played remarkable games and were in large measure responsible for the failure to score. Chevreaux made phenomenal stops of two seemingly certain tallies, and the Orange guard knocked out one fierce drive just as the referee was about to blow his whistle for the goal. Meehan and Moore also starred for Hamilton.

The game was marred by unusual roughness. Ireland and Brownell were both injured, the latter having to be replaced in the line by Forshay. Meehead-on collision, which knocked out han and an Orange player met in a the latter.

Taking everything into consideration, Syracuse had somewhat the edge on Hamilton during the game. The Orange players succeeded in keeping the ball in their own hands and well down in Buff and Blue territory for most of the time, but the wild shooting of their forwards and Captain Chevreaux's excellent goal tending prevented them from scoring. Hamilton, in the last few minutes of the first half, succeeded in rushing the ball down to their opponent's goal and tried desperately to shoot it through, but in vain. The game was played in thirty-five minute halves.

The line-up:

DR. FERRY RETURNS FROM WEEK'S TRIP

President Ferry returned last Thursday from a four days' mountain-climbing expedition in Verment. Dr. Ferry left by motor for Vermont on the 18th, and made his headquarters at Charlemont Inn, Charlemont, Mass., and Childs' Tavern, Wilmington, Vt. From these places Dr. Ferry drove to various mountains in the vicinity and accompanied by Charles M. Davenport, a Boston lawyer and a college friend, spent the time in hiking to the top of them. This is a favorite pastime of Dr. Ferry's and one in which he has annually indulged himself for many years. Because of the press of work at college during the summer months the President was able to obtain but a week's vacation at that time.

Dr. Ferry visited the great power roject operations at Whitingham, Vt., where a lake ten miles long and 185 feet deep is being constructed to furnish electric power to factories in Rhode Island. The whole contour and scenery of the surrounding country is being changed to accomplish this purpose. Farms, cemeteries, and a railroad are being torn up to construct this lake. Dr Ferry is familiar with this section of New England and he said that the entire appearance of the region is being changed. All of Dr. Ferry's stay was spent within driving distance of this region and was made a great deal more interesting by the work on this power project.

—LeRoy B. Sherman, '22, of the Donnelly Red Book, Inc., of New York, recently spent a week on the Hill before starting work in the New Jersey, Maryland and Delaware territory.

—George F. Deaner, ex-'25, is now playing in "Polly Preferred" at the LaSalle Theater in Chicago.

—Professor Davenport has an article in the October 10th issue of The Outlook entitled "Paragraphs from a Politician's European Notebook."

BATTLING BUFF AND BLUE TEAM TRIMS ST. LAWRENCE 14 TO 12

With 12-Point Handicap Hamilton Hits stride in Second Half and Wins First Victory of Season. Morris Makes Sensational Run for Winning Touchdown. Towne's Kicking Deciding Factor. Capt. Brush, Martin, Stanley, Olmsted, and Springman Also Stars.

The jinx is broken! After having passed through nearly two seasons without winning a game, the Hamilton College football team upset all the dope by defeating St. Lawrence University on Steuben Field Saturday by the score of 14-12 in one of the most spectacular fights seen on the Hill in many years. For the first time in two years the Chapel bell was able to ring out the glad news that the Buff and Blue was victorious on the gridiron.

With comparative scores pointing to an easy victory for the Scarlet and with the words of Coach Eddie Kaw, that "Hamilton will be the easiest game on the schedule" ringing in their ears, the Hamilton eleven went on the field determined to fight from the first to the last whistle. At the start of the second half with the score 12-0 against them, the Buff and Blue warriors staged one of the greatest uphill fights in years and emerged winners by the narrow margin of two goal kicks.

Three hundred students followed the St. Lawrence team to Clinton and encouraged their eleven in a lusty manner throughout the game. The large percentage of St. Lawrence "Co-eds" which was present, supported by the invigorating strains of the St. Lawrence Student Band formed a gay and colorful scene on the north side of the field.

On the Hamilton side of the gridiron the stands were packed by supporters of the Buff and Blue, whose number was augmented by the many fair house-party guests. Perfect football weather was a further inducement to a brisk and energetic game.

It is impossible to pick out any outstanding star for the Buff and Blue in Saturday's contest, Towne, Martin, and Morris in the backfield and and Captain Brush in the line all played brilliant games.

Springman, Olmsted, both freshmen,

Hamilton kicked off to St. Lawrence at the beginning of the game and Flynn ran the ball back ten yards. Both teams fumbled frequently in the first few minutes of play, apparently suffering from over-anxiety. After about five minutes of play, Smith punted and Stanley ran the ball back ten yards. Towne and Martin alternated carrying the ball until Hamilton had advanced to the Scarlet 3-yard line. Here Martin lost the ball on a disputed play when a Hamilton touchdown seemed certain.

St. Lawrence started to fight furiously and unloosed a series of successful end runs that soon brought the pigskin to the Buff and Blue 10-yard line. Lightfoot took the ball over for the first touchdown. Smith failed to kick the goal. Score: St. Lawrence 6, Hamilton 0.

Williams kicked off for St. Lawrence and Towne received. The Hamilton backs again started to march up the field and took the ball by straight football to the St. Lawrence 1-yard line. On the last down and with one yard to go Stanley threw a lateral pass to left end which was intercepted by Smith. The St. Lawrence backtore down an open field 70 yards before Springman suddenly overtook him and made a spectacular tackle. On the next play St. Lawrence was penalized for being off-side and Morris then intercepted a forward pass. Hamilton advanced to about the middle of the field when the St. Lawrence line held and Towne was forced to kick.

The Canton warriors commenced an irresistible offense that ended in Lightfoot's taking the ball over the line for the last St. Lawrence score of the day. Williams failed to kick the goal. Score: St. Lawrence 12, Hamilton 0.

Martin received Williams' kick-off and the Buff and Blue started a march up the field that was ended when the whistle blew for the half.

At the start of the second half Williams kicked to Martin, who ran the ball back 30 yards to the 40-yard line. The Buff and Blue showed an aggressive fighting spirit from the first play in the second half and it was soon evident that St. Lawrence was not having things its own way. The Hamilton backs plugged their way through the Scarlet line until they reached the 15-yard line. Here St. Lawrence was penalized 15 yards for charging and the ball was on the 3-yard line. Towne made a yard through right tackle and Morris added another through the same part of the line. On the next play Towne took the ball over the line for the first Hamilton score of the game. He made the seventh point by kicking the goal. Score: St. Lawrence 12, Hamilton 7.

Towne kicked off to Flynn, who was downed on the 35-yard line. The Scarlet tried hard to march down the field for another touchdown but was unable to penetrate the Hamilton line.

The last period brought forth the most spectacular football of the day. Both teams were fighting furiously, Hamilton to push the ball over the goal line, St. Lawrence to keep the pigskin in mid-field until the whistle blew for the end of the game. After seven minutes of exciting play, Stanley sent a long diagonal pass to Morris, who made a brilliant 60-yard run for the touchdown that gave Hamilton its first victory in two years. Towne kicked the goal. Score: St. Lawrence 12, Hamilton 14.

St. Lawrence was never more dangerous than in the last five minutes of play. The Northern New Yorkers unleashed a furious attack that for a short while threatened to carry them to victory. Martin was taken out on account of an injury to his leg, Sarcka taking his place. St. Lawrence was well advanced into Buff and Blue territory when Morris intercepted a pass. The game ended with the ball in Hamilton's possession in mid-field.

The entire St. Lawrence team played a fine brand of football but particular credit is due to Lightfoot, Williams, and Captain Williams for their fine playing.

Recognize Minor Sports!

At the last meeting of the executive council, one of the motions passed was to appoint a committee to determine some reward for the managers. This is all very well and good, and perhaps just. Managers should receive some recognition for their hard work.

Minor sports do not receive just recognition here at college. Let us have a committee appointed to investigate awards to the soccer, fencing, and tennis players.

Compulsory Attendance.

College newspapers all over the country have been discussing the new system that has just been put into effect at Princeton University. The feeling seems to be unanimous in favor of the scheme.

Princeton upperclassmen are rejoicing that every junior and senior of average intelligence has been set free from compulsory attendance at all recitations and lectures. In making this decision to give practically absolute freedom to upperclassmen, the Princeton faculty has cast aside all precedents of American education and has given the undergraduates greater freedom than is permitted in any other American university. The theory on which this decision has been based is that an upperclassman should be able to realize his responsibilty to himself and the college. It is expected that the result of this innovation will be the maintaining of higher standards than have heretofore been required.

Princeton has done a revolutionary thing in American education. Time only will tell whether or not this system will work out.

Perhaps one of the reasons why so many business men are against the college graduate is because the college man, fresh from his studies, has not learned the true meaning of responsibility. One of the faults of the American educational system has been too much compulsion. From the grammar grades through the colleges and the universities, there is a general course of compulsory attendance at classes. Compulsion is necessary up to a certain period, but after that it retards the development of responsibility.

One of the great advantages of the Princeton system is that it gives men much to work for during their first two years. The Princeton system does not give the privilege of freedom from compulsory attendance of classes to everyone, but only to those of average intelligence.

A great step forward has been taken, and it is sincerely hoped that more colleges and universites wll follow in Princeton's steps.

More Publicity.

The Hamilton College Press Board is at present facing a very peculiar condition. There as a general demand for more publicity for the college, but the Press Board is not able to fulfill that demand. A very capable staff of undergraduates is handling the work at present, but it finds itself handicapped by a lack of funds.

Advertising has come to be a very important item in modern activities. It has become the means of letting other people know what you are doing. Business has recognized the necessity of advertising for a long time. Now, other walks of life beside business are realizing the need of more publicitiy. Even churches are advertising their services.

Colleges also need to advertise. This they do by their athletic teams, publications, and their various activities. Very few colleges use paid advertisments. They are more subtle than that. A clever press campaign is the best advertising medium for a college.

Hamilton needs more publicity. We have passed the stage where the college serves only a certain section. The college is national and international in influence, but it is not getting sufficient publicity. A means must be found whereby the Press Board may have sufficient funds to carry out an advertising campaign for the college.

It is quite embarrassing to have so little known about the college. Many people wonder where Hamilton College is; or else connect it with a certain business institute in New York City.

BUFF AND BLUE TO PLAY HARD BASKET-BALL SCEDULE

Manager Johnson Arranges an Attractive Schedule for the Coming Season—Prospects are Good

The schedule for the 1923-24 basketball season has been completed, and is announced as follows: Dec. 14, St. Lawrence at Clinton; Dec. 17, St. Bonaventure at Clinton; Jan. 11, Rochester at Clinton; Jan. 16, Colgate at Hamilton; Jan. 19, Union at Clinton; Feb. 1; Albright at Clinton; Feb. 8, R. P. I. at Clinton; Feb. 13, Colgate at Clinton; Feb. 16, Rochester at Rochester; Feb. 20, Albany Law at Albany; Feb. 21, St. Stephens at Annandale; Feb. 22, Manhattan at New York; Feb. 23, Stevens at Hoboken; Mar. 1, Union at Schenectady.

All games after Feb. 13 are away from home and the games beginning Feb. 20 with Albany Law and ending on Feb. 23 with Stevens will necessitate a four days' trip to Albany and New York.

The prospects for a good basketball season are very promising. Coach Carroll will be assisted in basketball by "Tuts" McBride, who has been engaged as assistant in football and basketball and head coach in baseball. There are four first team men back this year, Hamilton, McGiffin, Marquardt, and Hatch. These men will probably be the nucleus around which Coach Carroll will form this season's team. Besides these men and last year's candidates for the Varsity, it is reported that the coach will have abundant material in the Freshman Class from which to pick a fifth man.

Garner's loss will be keenly felt, as it was during the latter part of last season. The Freshman Class, however, is expected to furnish some very good men, which will partially make up for Garner's loss.

Work in basketball cannot begin in earnest until after football season. At the close of the football season the nterclass games will probably be played. These games are, in a measure, a try-out for the squad, and at that time an opportunity will be given the coaches to see just what material there is on hand.

—Paul H. Bixler, '22, has transferred from the University of Pennsylvania to Harvard University, where he will continue his study of German. Hiss address is 20 Conant Hall, Cambridge, Mass.

AMERICAN COLLEGES TO AID FOREIGN STUDENTS

Many New England Colleges Send Representatives to Conference on Work of Student Friendship Fund

At a conference held in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology last Saturday evening, eighty-eight presidents, deans, and student representatives of New England colleges and schools assembled to discuss the work of the Student Friendship Fund in its relief of European student conditions.

The speakers, President Henry N. MacCracken of Vassar College, and Mr. Graham R. Taylor of New York City both declared that not only a continuation of assistance from American colleges and schools is necessary if European education is to be saved from complete collapse, but also that the work of the Student Friendship Fund is contributing strongly to the development of a new spirit and a new morale in Europe, a democratic education has been made possible by the self-help activities instituted, the students have discarded their former unwillingness to work, and even professors may now be found engaging in heavy manual labor.

Following the discussion of conditions, the meeting unamimously passed the following resolution: "That we, as representatives of thirty-five colleges, schools and universities in New England pledge ourselves to go back to our institutions to present this situation as fairly and forcefully as possible, and to promote any movements which we can that will secure immediate relief for that situation."

It was further voted to appoint a committee under the chairmanship of Earl Marlatt of 9 Willow St., Boston, in order that full information on the situation and the work of the Student Friendship Fund should be disseminated, that speakers and publicity material should be made available in the most economical way, and that the full support of New England schools and colleges should be assured.

THE UNDERCLASS ELECTIONS

On Monday morning after chapel, the sophomore class voted on the two candidates for vice-president. As a result of this vote, Newell Holley was elected. At the same meeting, Hollister W. Marquardt and John W. Chase were nominated for secretary-treasurer of the class. Chase was elected.

Newell Holley, vice-president, won his "H" in football and was a member of the freshman football, basketball, and track teams. He is also a member of D. T., the sophomore honorary society. He belongs to Alpha Delta Phi fraternity. His home is in LaCrosse, Wis.

John W. Chase, secretary- treasurer, is on the Life Board and a member of D. T. He was on the Freshman Frolic committee and was a member of the cast of the Latin play. He belongs to Sigma Phi fraternity. Chase lives in Clinton.

Hamilton Bookhout was elected president of the freshman class at a meeting of the students after chapel on Tuesday morning. He will undoubtedly make a very capable president.

He was graduated from the Utica Free Academy last June, after having made an enviable record both in scholastic work and in athletics. He was a member of the football team there for three years and was on the track team. During his course, he was also active in debating and public speaking, winning second place in the Interscholastic Contest held here on Interscholastic Day last spring. He was elected president of the senior class. Bookhout is one of the most promising athletes in the freshman class, and has already played in two intercollegiate football games. He is pledged to the Chi Psi fraternity.

The nominations for vice president have not yet been made.

HARVARD ADOPTS MID-YEAR ENTRANCE PLAN

School of Business Administration Now Accepts Students for Graduate Work in February

Of distinct interest to seniors who are graduating at midyears is the announcement of a Midyear Entrance Plan just made by the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

For two years a few men have been permitted to enter in February. As a result of the experience with these students, the School is now prepared to offer the same courses of study that are available to those entering in September.

The program of work has been so adjusted that students entering at that time will be able to complete the regular work for the degree of Master in Business Administration in the usual two years, graduating in February of the second year following their entrance.

During the past summer applications from 443 men for admission to the School in September were received. From this number only 332 could be finally accepted and enrolled. A comparison with corresponding figures for last year of 302 applications received and 247 men admitted, shows the growing demand for the training given by the School.

It was in order to meet this increasing demand for admission to its courses that the recent announcement was made.

It is expected that this opportunity will prove attractive to those men desirous of entering the School who will have completed the requirements for their college degree at midyear and who would therefore, under the more usual program, lose at least five months before beginning their professional career. It should also be of interest to those men who, having graduated in June and gone into business, have found their training inadequate for an effective grasp of business conditions.

Hamilton College is represented in the Harvard School of Business Administration by Arnold Smith, '22, who is taking up his first year's work there now.

GLEE CLUB CHOOSES VARIED PROGRAM

Leader Moore Announces Numbers for Coming Season—Instrumental Club Awaiting New Music

During the past two weeks, the Glee Club under the leadership of Leslie E. Moore, '24, has had several intensive rehearsals as a preparation for the fall concerts. The concert held at Willowvale on October 11 which opened the season's activities had the advantage of showing up the places in which the program will have to be rounded out.

For the Utica concert the clubs will include in the repertoire: "Morning Hymn" by Henschel, "Land Sighting" by Grieg, "Sweet Miss Mary" by Neidlinger, several college songs and perhaps two or three dialect songs. This list, of course, does not constitute the final program and is subject to change. "Morning Hymn" is announced to be the piece used in the competition concert to be held in Syracuse in February. "Suabian Folk Song" by Brahms and two light, simple, humorous numbers which may be used for encores are also to be rehearsed.

It seems likely that Hamilton will be represented in the contest of the Intercollegiate Musical Corporation to be held at Carnegie Hall in New York in the spring. There are about twelve eastern colleges which take part in this concert every year.

The cut in the number of men in the Glee Club will probably be made some time before Christmas vacation. At this time the number will be reduced to about thirty voices.

Phil Dowdell, '24, who has charge of the Instrumental Club, is waiting for the newest music before beginning rehearsals. He intends, however, to start practice very soon for the Clinton and Utica concerts.

From present indications the possibilities of a western trip will have to be abandoned. The Easter trip will probably follow the same itinerary as that of last year, with perhaps several changes in the smaller towns.

The Press Board is planning to cooperate with the clubs in sending out advance articles to the papers of the town in which the concerts are to be held. This proved to be a most helpful means of advertisement last year.

The alumni are requested to be on the lookout for the itinerary list, which will be published in Life as soon as the managers have definite promise from those who are in charge of the concerts in the various towns.

DR. WALES BUEL DEAD

Member of Hamilton Chapter of D. K. E. for More Than Half a Century

Dr. Wales Buel, a practicing physician of Oneida County for more than half a century, died at his home in Walesville on Tuesday, Oct. 23, in his 87th year. Dr. Buel died while sitting in his favorite chair. He had been ailing for several years and his condition had gradually grown worse. A heart attack caused the end.

Dr. Buel was born in Walesville, March 31, 1837. He was a lineal descendant of Jonathan and Jerusha Wales, who came there from Windom, Conn., settled there and founded our neighboring hamlet of Walesville in May, 1797, two months after Moses Foote and his band of pioneers from New England had made a settlement of the village of Clinton.

Dr. Buel's grandfather, Jonathan Wales, built the Walesville paper mill, which burned down some twenty years ago, and which was one of the first manufacturing industries established in this county. Dr. Buel's father, Alton Buel, established a foundry at Walesville, where wood-burning stoves were made. The little village was thus at one time on the way to become a manufacturing center, but all its once-thriving industries have long since disappeared, while Dr. Buel and the old homestead were all that was left as reminders of his pioneer ancestors who founded the little hamlet.

Dr. Buel was for a short time a resident of Clinton some ten years ago, and was well known throughout this section, where he had practiced his profession after the manner of a doctor of the old school for a period of more than fifty years. As a young man he attended the old Clinton Liberal Institute in this place, and was expecting to enter Hamilton College. He became a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity, with which he had affiliated for more than fifty years.

Dr. Buel never married and leaves no near relatives.

Most popular college sport

"As I look back on my college days," said the old grad, "it strikes me there were more men playing blind man's buff than all other games combined. I understand this is still the case.

"Get me straight. It was no child's play. What we were groping around for was pretty serious business—nothing less than a career.

"Too many men are in the dark as to what they will do after graduation. Either they neglect to specialize in anything, or hastily select a major which they afterwards regret.

"I know I would be considerably ahead in business if back at college I had sat down for a few hours' earnest thought to find out just what work I liked best—and then gone in for it heart and soul.

"Pick the thing that appeals to you, and don't let them tell you that particular line is overcrowded. Talk this over with graduates you know. Talk it over with your professors. Talk it over with the industrial representatives next Spring. Most of all, talk it over with yourself.

"The main thing is to get on the right track and to keep going. There's no fun in being 'It' in the game of life, with every change in fate ready to push you off an uncertain course."

Number 32 of a series

Carpe Diem

Although there were no serious accidents last week-end, several of the boys had narrow escapes. Those that have had the same girls on for the last eight house-parties (not mentioning any names, Lent) were fairly safe. They met the dear girls at the train with a pleasant smile, asked how all the folks were, rushed them out on the Hill to avoid paying for a meal in Utica. They got their big kick from hearing them say, "Why, everything is the same as last time! Sarah Jones had the bed that fell down with me last spring!" There was an advantage in not having the fair damsels drag them into out-of-the-way places from curiosity. They were content to stay in the house and dance.

* * *

But that other class, those gamblers in woman-kind, those triflers in the seriousness of life, those who took a chance on a woman recommended by a friend with a grudge, pardon me, Chevreaux, they are the boys who got the real kick out of the party. And you know, no matter how many friends you may have, they will never say a kindly word of warning in regard to a gamble like this. Of course, it affords a form of amusement for several days before the party, and the bets often run as high as 9 to 1. I know personally of one case like that but she turned out all right. The young man told me later that it was a neck 'n neck race. The Skidmore aggravation was a nice appearing bunch of co-eds, wasn't it? Their coach and trainer got in a day late, consequently they lacked interference.

* * *

In the last class come the pirates, the free-booters, the fine boys who help out the stag line. They receive much, but have nothing to give, that is, to us. Their faces shall some day adorn the Rogues' Gallery, their tuxedos changed to striped suits.

* * *

The party was a grand success, even though the same dumb questions were asked, the same blunders made, and a few shirt fronts and satin lapels ruined. Freddie Brush, Ike McGiffin, and Harve Valentine fought for precedence in front of the cleaning department this morning.
